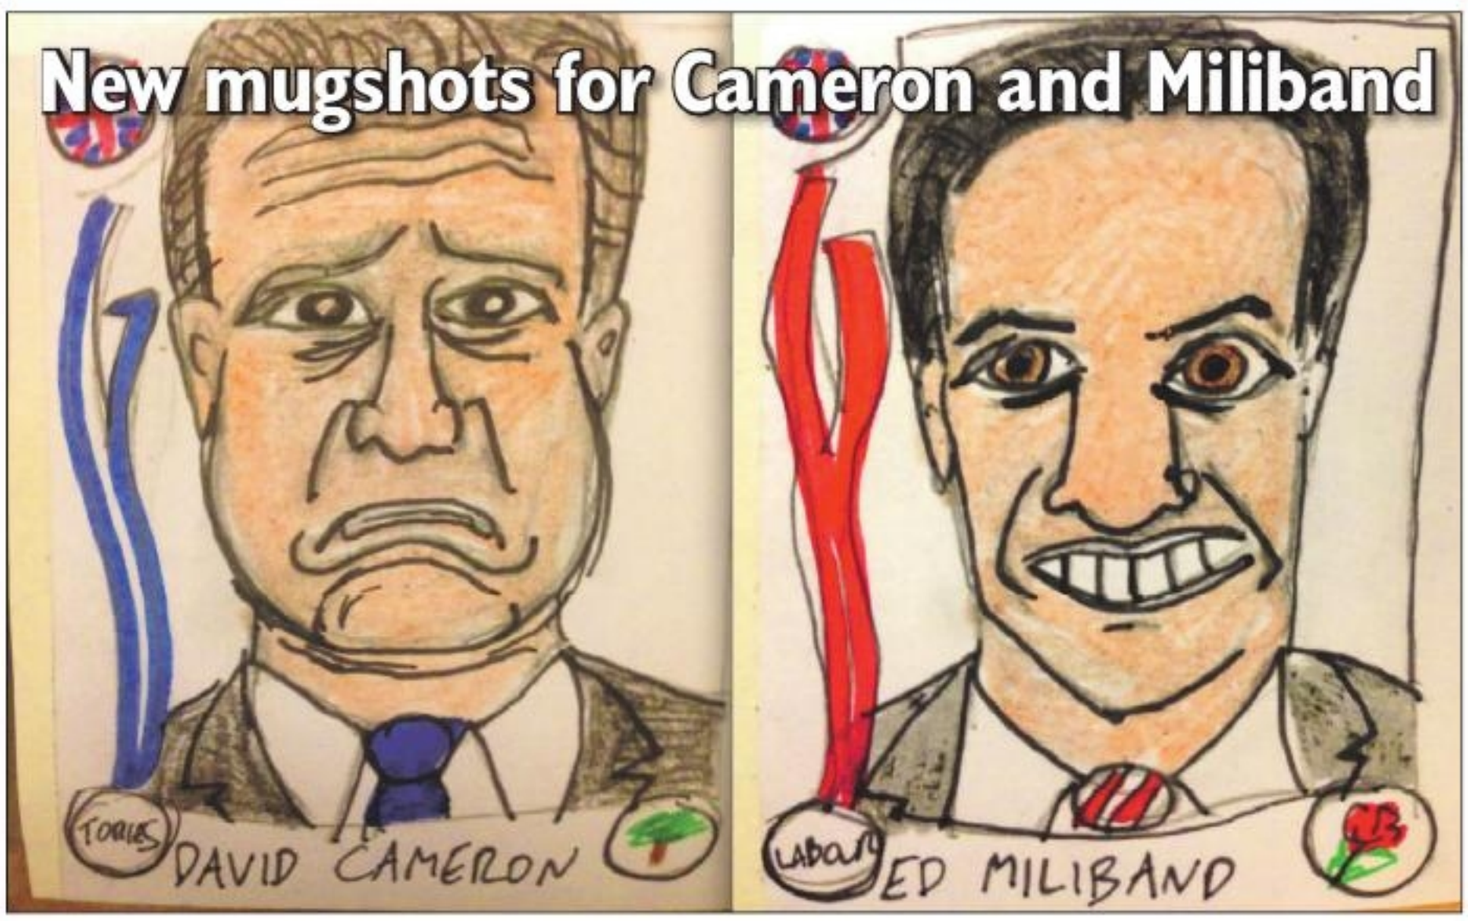
FRESH CALLS TO REOPEN RAILWAY



A NEW take on the election coverage has been offered up by an Oxford couple.

Alex and Sian Pratchett, who rose to fame last year after drawing all the football stickers from the World Cup, have now turned their attention to the general election.

Among those treated to the pair's artistic talents are Prime Minister and Witney Conservative candidate David Cameron and Labour leader Ed Miliband.

Witney and Carterton line discussed by county council

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A COUNTY council proposal to consider improving public transport links across Oxfordshire – including reopening the Witney and Carterton railway line – were unanimously approved on Tuesday.

Bob Johnston, county councillor for Kennington and Radley, tabled the motion for the council to increase its support for rail infrastructure.

It comes 45 years after the last train ran on the line, with the tracks having been long since torn up.

And Laura Price, councillor for Witney South and Central, was optimistic that it could lead to discussions about setting up the line once again.

Cllr Price said: "It's great to see the idea cropping up, and I think it's a good indication of how we're growing as a town.

She continued: "We know our roads are at breaking point and we need another solution, so I'm happy to see those other alternatives being given airtime.

"The sticking point is always money, but I think that if as a county we're united behind the idea of having a good public transport network, we all need to be singing from the same hymn sheet to allow all the areas in our county to grow."

In recent years other rail options, including trams and a monorail, have been considered to help alleviate traffic on the A40 by getting people to use public transport instead.

Hugh Jaeger, of the Witney Oxford Transport Group, said: "It's good news to take that line seriously.

"For years campaigners have thought that light rail such as trams would be the best solution, but the more we look at it, the more we realise it could be either a tram train or a heavy rail solution that works best.

He added: "I would encourage the county council to properly evaluate both."

THE candidates vying for votes in the six Oxfordshire parliamentary constituencies have been announced.

Forty-five nominees from 13 political parties, and three independents, will go head to head for the six seats on offer.

Oxfordshire residents will go to the polls on May 7.

Five parties - Conservatives, Labour, Liberal Democrats, Ukip and Greens – are fielding candidates in all six seats.

In the 2010 election, the Tories won five and Labour one of the seats in Oxfordshire, and Lib Dems lost their only MP.

Oxford East

NINE candidates are in the running for the Oxford East seat at next month's general election.

Long-serving MP Andrew Smith (pictured) has held the seat since 1987 for Labour, winning with a majority of over 4,500 at the 2010 election.

Liberal Democrat Steve Goddard was second, falling back after coming within 963 votes of winning the seat in 2005.

Ed Argar of the Conservatives was third with 9,727 votes, while the Green's Sushila Dhali was fourth and Ukip's Julia Gasper fifth.

Mr Smith first won the seat from the Conservatives at the 1987 election, and has held it since with majorities varying from just under 1,000 to as high as 16,665 in 1997.

The constituency covers the majority of Oxford, including the city centre, Cowley, Blackbird Leys, Headington, Marston, Iffley, Littlemore, Osney and Barton.

SEVEN candidates have put their names forward for the hotly-contested Oxford West and Abingdon seat.

Previous MP Nicola Blackwood (pictured) is again standing for the Conservatives, after she won the seat from Liberal Democrat Dr Evan Harris by just 176 votes in 2010 – the seventh closest result in the country.

A 6.9 per cent swing to the Conservatives from the Liberal Democrats saw Ms Blackwood poll 23,906 votes to beat Dr Harris' 23,730.

Labour's Richard Stevens was third with 5,999 votes, with Paul Williams of Ukip fourth, the Green's Chris Goodall fifth, and Keith Mann of The Animal Protection Party sixth.

The seat had previously been Liberal Democrat controlled since 1997.

Wantage

FORMER MP Ed Vaizey (pictured) faces four other challengers in the fight for the Wantage constituency seat in next month's general election.

The Conservative minister for culture, communication and creative industries has held the seat since 2005 in what is traditionally viewed as a safe seat for the party.

He won the seat in 2010 with a majority of more than 13,500 from Liberal Democrat candidate Alan Armitage.

Labour's Stephen Mitchell was third with 7,855 votes, with Ukip candidate Jacqueline Jones fourth and Adam Twine of the Green Party fifth.

Prior to Mr Vaizey's election in 2005, the seat had been held by Robert Jackson since 1983 – initially for the Conservatives before he defected to Labour in early 2005.

The constituency covers Wantage, Didcot, Faringdon, Grove and Wallingford, encompassing the majority of the Vale of White Horse district and part of South Oxfordshire.

The Candidates:
- Alex Meredith (LD)
- Kate Prendergast (G)
- Lee Upcraft (U)
- Ed Vaizey (C)
- Stephen Webb (L)

Henley

FIVE candidates are in the mix for the Henley seat in parliament in May's general election.

Henley has long been a safe Conservative seat, occupied by John Howell (pictured) since the 2008 by-election.

In 2010 Mr Howell won with more than 55 per cent of the vote, ahead of Liberal Democrat Andy Crick in second.

Richard McKenzie was third for Labour, while Ukip's Laurence Hughes was in fourth, Mark Stevenson of the Green Party in fifth, and John Bews of the British National Party (BNP) in sixth place.

The seat has previously been held by current Mayor of London Boris Johnson, and former deputy prime minister Michael Hesseltine.

The constituency covers the majority of the South Oxfordshire district, including Henley, Thame, Benson, Culham, Sandford, Wheatley and Chinnor.

The Candidates:
- Sue Cooper (LD)
- John Howell (C)
- Chris Jones (U)
- Sam Juthani (L)
- Mark Stevenson (G)

Witney

PRIME Minister David Cameron (pictured) is facing competition from 11 other candidates as he aims to defend his Witney seat.

Mr Cameron polled more than three times the votes of the Liberal Democrat representative Dawn Barnes in the 2010 election, winning with a majority of 22,740.

Joe Goldberg for Labour was third, followed by Stuart MacDonald of the Green Party and Count Nikolai Tolstoy for Ukip in fourth and fifth respectively.

The Prime Minister first won the seat in 2001 from Shaun Woodward – who after initially being elected for the Conservatives in 1997 switched to Labour in 1999.

The constituency covers the entirety of the West Oxfordshire district, including Witney, Carterton, Chipping Norton, Charlbury, Woodstock and Burford.

The Candidates:
- Colin Bex (WR)
- David Cameron (C)
- Duncan Enright (L)
- Andy Graham (LD)
- Nathan Handley (I)
- Deek Jackson (LP)
- Stuart MacDonald (G)
- Clive Peedell (NHAP)
- Vivien Saunders (RVS)
- Bobby Smith (SECA)
- Simon Strutt (U)
- Chris Tompson (I)

Banbury

THE Banbury constituency is set for a new MP at next month's election, after former representative Sir Tony Baldry (pictured) revealed he would be standing down.

Sir Tony had been Banbury's elected member since 1983, and polled more than 40 per cent of the vote in each of the seven elections he stood in.

At the 2010 election, he won 29,703 votes to win with a majority of 18,227 over Liberal Democrat David Rundle.

Leslie Sibley of Labour was third with 10,773 votes, Ukip's David Fairweather fourth and Alastair White of the Green Party in fifth.

Banbury has long been a safe seat for the Conservative Party, the party having won every election since 1922.

The constituency covers Banbury and Bicester, along with the vast majority of the Cherwell district excluding the area around Kidlington.

The Candidates:
- Dickie Bird (U)
- Roseanne Edwards (NHAP)
- John Howson (LD)
- Ian Middleton (G)
- Victoria Prentis (C)
- Sean Woodcock (L)

Dad Nick's marathon effort for charity

A WITNEY dad whose seven-year-old daughter has an unknown neurological condition is set to race the London Marathon later this month to raise money for charity.

Nick Streeter, 41, from Weavers Close, will be pounding round the course in London on April 26 to raise money for Oxfordshire based charities SpecialEffect and Blue Skye Thinking.

His daughter Chloe suffers from an undiagnosed condition, and has benefitted from SpecialEffect's work in using technology to improve disabled people's lives.

And Nick, who works at SpecialEffect, is also fundraising for Blue Skye Thinking, set up in honour of Abingdon five-year-old Skye Hall, who died from a brain tumour last August.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I work for SpecialEffect and they have been brilliant in supporting Chloe," said Nick.

"It was through this work that I met Skye, who used the charity's services to have some fun with eye control technology in the last few months of his life.

"When I found out Skye's family had started a charity in his name I was moved to want to support it, so I decided to use my place in this year's London Marathon to raise money for both."

Nick is hoping to raise £2,000 from the marathon to split between the two charities.

Sally Hall, Skye's mum and founder of Blue Skye Thinking, said: "Towards the end of his life Skye had lost all movement in his arms and hands.

"Being able to play video games using computerised eye gaze technology and a click button at SpecialEffect was great fun for him – he even managed to play ten pin bowling against his Uncle Simon via Skype in Kenya.

"We are so grateful to Nick for choosing our charity to run for."

Liberty's killer to be sentenced today

THE man whose car struck and killed Witney schoolgirl Liberty Baker last June is scheduled to be sentenced at Oxford Crown Court this afternoon.

Robert Blackwell, 19, of Hayway Lane in Weald, pleaded guilty to causing 14-year-old Liberty's death by dangerous driving on March 6.

Liberty died in hospital after Blackwell's Citroen C2 mounted the pavement at 44mph on Curbridge Road, Witney, on June 30 last year and collided with her and three others as she was walking to school.

Last month the court heard that traces of cannabis had been found in Blackwell's system from up to 24 hours before the collision.

It was also heard that Blackwell had been distracted while he was driving, with the prosecution arguing that a message had been received by his mobile phone around the time of the incident.

While the message hadn't been opened, the prosecution said that it could have been seen as it would have flashed up on the front of his phone.

Liberty died soon after being taken to hospital the same day, while the other three people who were hit by the car suffered serious and minor injuries.

Blackwell had been released on bail from last month's hearing until the sentencing today, and was also disqualified from driving.

See next week's Oxfordshire Guardian for the full story on the sentencing.

Oxford's history makers are feeling 'phenomenal'

• Anastasia Chitty celebrating (picture by Getty Images)

OXFORD University women's rowing team president Anastasia Chitty called the women's achievement 'phenomenal' after making history at The Boat Race.

Oxford's men's and women's teams completed a clean sweep victory over Cambridge in London on Saturday.

It was the first time the women rowed on the same course as the men in the Thames - despite the women's varsity having been launched 70 years ago.

Chitty, a 21-year-old medical student at Pembroke College, spoke of the achievement after months of arduous work.

"I feel very blessed to have been brought into the world at such an exciting time for women in sport," she told the Guardian.

"It's humbling to reflect on and so exciting to look forward to all

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

the girls and women who will race in the future.

"The overriding emotions I'm feeling are of joy, followed by excitement for next year.

"It's an absolutely amazing race to be part of."

Both the male and female teams secured a comfortable victory amidst tricky rowing conditions.

While both the male and female reserve teams also beat Cambridge, completing the 4-0 thrashing over the weekend.

The women's race could barely be considered a fair fight as Oxford never deterred from an early dominative period.

Cambridge were left chasing Oxford's wake from the first minute and the Dark Blues, who had gold-winning Olympian, Caryn Davis powering them on at Stroke, never looked like rescinding their lead.

They ousted their rivals, finishing six and a half lengths in front of them and by 19 seconds as the event was televised for the first time.

The men's 160th race got off to a flyer as Oxford battled just ahead of Cambridge to put themselves a length ahead at the mile point.

The water became rougher and Cambridge were left scrambling to keep up as Oxford took the initiative in the middle section.

The men slid under Chiswick Bridge victorious, falling back in jubilation as their expertly fashioned win beat Cambridge by 19 seconds and six lengths.

The men's team president and GB World Champion, Constantine Louloudis, also joined a select few in history with four Boat Race wins.

POLICE have released a photo (below) of a man they are looking for after an officer was hit on the head with a bottle thrown during last week's protests in Oxford.

The incident happened at around 1.50pm on April 4 in Park End Street during the English Defence League (EDL) and anti-EDL demonstrations in the city.

A bottle was thrown, which hit and injured a 31-year-old police officer.

The officer suffered cuts to his head and was treated by paramedics at the scene.

Two people have been charged with one count of using threatening words or behaviour to cause harassment, alarm or distress.

Western Conveyance reaches £100m mark

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

FOREIGN secretary and Thames Valley Flood Minister Philip Hammond paid a visit to South Hinksey on Tuesday as the budget for an Oxford flood relief river reached the £100million mark.

Mr Hammond met with residents from South Hinksey, who last year were severely affected by flooding after the River Thames twice burst its banks.

At the time the army were drafted in to erect temporary barriers to stop rising water levels from reaching the village.

The Oxford Area Flood Partnership – comprised of local councils, the Environment Agency, Thames Water and Network Rail – is sourcing £120m to build the Western Conveyance flood relief channel from Botley Road to Sandford Lock.

Mr Hammond said: "I've been involved as the Prime Minister's flood envoy for the Thames Valley and the discussions since then about getting the Western Conveyance scheme funded and up and running.

"There's £20m to £30m still to come, and a lot of that will be for long-term maintenance, which can come at the back end of the building phase so it doesn't act as a barrier to getting going.

"We're confident that the funding will come through over the years but it's not all needed now, it's over a period of years."

Plans to have temporary barriers on standby at South Hinksey in the meantime were also discussed.

Ground work to create a path they can be erected on is due to start in September, with volunteers from the village set to be trained to put them up when they are needed at short notice.

South Hinksey resident Maggie Rawcliffe spoke with Mr Hammond on Tuesday.

She said: "Last year we had the army and everybody out here [to put up the barriers] and that proved they worked, it set a precedent.

"So we should be ready for the rainy season in that we will have the ground work done and people trained to put up the barriers.

"Until the Western Conveyance we are still at risk of flooding, but we will have these temporary barriers should flooding threaten again."

Revving up to 1,000mph

A 1,000MPH supersonic car engineers are hoping will break the land speed record this year applied its brakes for a stop in Oxford on Tuesday.

The version of the Bloodhound car parked up outside Oxford University's Advanced Research Computing site in Keble Road.

Its designers are aiming to break the current record of 763mph later this year by reaching 800mph.

This is well above the speed of sound barrier of 761mph.

Franz Nehammer, a Bloodhound team member, said: "The plan is in August that we will run in Newquay on a runway doing loads of shakedown tests.

"After that it will be taken out to South Africa where it will run on a specially prepared 12 mile by three mile track to run the car at speed, and hopefully break the record this year and run away with it next year."

Next year they want to break the 1,000mph milestone.

The car will be driven by Andy Green, who piloted the Thrust SSC car to the current land speed record back in 1997.

Franz said: "Andy's the only guy on the planet who has driven supersonically, so he has the best CV we could ask for."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truthis that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Brush theft

WITNEY: Three hundred hair brushes were stolen from a Witney company last month.

Two men used a ladder to disable CCTV cameras at Data Plastics, based off Station Lane, between 11.30pm on March 13 and 12.30am on March 14, before breaking into the building.

They then searched the production room and stole 300 Lulu Guinness design Tangle Teezer hair brushes.

Fake murder

OXFORD: Budding sleuths from across the county took part in a fictional murder investigation at Oxford University over the Easter holiday.

Around 60 teenagers aged 12 to 15 took part in 'Murder in the Cloisters', as a student was found dead on the university grounds and everyone became a suspect.

Tara Prayag, head of widening participation at the university, said: "It gives young people an exciting experience of university life as they work together to find the answers."

Next job fair

BICESTER: More than 40 organisations are signed up for Bicester Job Fair at the John Paul II Centre on April 29 from 10.30am to 2.30pm.

DNA evidence could help find Janet's killer

POLICE relaunched an investigation into the brutal murder of an Oxford research nurse on the 20th anniversary of her death on Friday, after new DNA evidence came to light.

Janet Brown was gagged, handcuffed, and repeatedly hit over the head at her home in Sprigs Holly Lane, Radnage, near Chinnor, on April 10, 1995.

The 51-year-old mum of three, who worked as a research nurse at Oxford University's Public Health and Primary Care department, was home alone at the time of the attack.

It is thought a burglar broke into the home and attacked Janet, although nothing was taken from the house.

On Thursday, Janet's daughters Roxanne and Zara Brown made a heartfelt plea for anyone with information to come forward.

Roxanne said: "Our mum's murder was planned and brutal and the horror of her death stays with us every day.

"She was attacked and killed in our family home, a place where we should all be safe.

"There is new DNA evidence that will help Thames Valley Police bring the killer to justice, but we need your help to find them.

"[Janet] was a kind and loving person and her death broke our hearts."

• Peter Beirne with Janet's daughters (left) Roxanne and (right) Zara Brown and (far right) Janet Brown

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Police revealed new DNA evidence has been found from an item at the house at the time of the murder.

The item, which police refused to identify, had been kept in their archives since, and advancements in DNA techniques has meant it can now be investigated further.

Peter Beirne, head of Thames Valley Police's Major Crime Investigation Review Team, said: "Part of our review involved submitting items for further forensic tests in the hope that we could utilise advancements in forensic science in the last 20 years.

"Some of those tests have revealed a DNA profile which doesn't belong to the family.

"We believe that the evidence will add strong support to link the offender to the scene."

A £20,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Contact police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously.

Aldi's grand opening in Didcot

A NEW Aldi supermarket is opening its doors for the first time this morning.

Mayor of Didcot Scott Wilgrove is due to open the store, in Lower Broadway, at 8am.

The shop has created 35 jobs in the town – five more than was originally stated when the plans first went through.

Store manager Andrew Richardson said: "We would like to thank local residents and supporters of the new store for their patience throughout the development.

"The team and I are looking forward to meeting local residents and hope that they take advantage of the great offers available.

"We look forward to seeing everyone on the morning of the store opening."

There had been delays in granting planning permission to the store last year.

South Oxfordshire District Council delayed their decision for four months while they awaited revised designs from Aldi.

It is now opening 10 months after it was given permission by the district council.

The X Factor comes to Oxford

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk

X FACTOR hopefuls fine-tuned their vocal chords to audition in Oxford for this year's series of the talent TV show.

A pop-up X Factor audition booth was set up in the Clarendon Shopping Centre on Thursday from 9am until 6pm.

Residents from across the city plucked up the courage to sing recordings for X Factor producers in what they hope will be their first step to stardom.

X Factor casting researcher Steve Golley said: "We hope to find some interesting singers, big characters, big personalities and entertainers fundamentally.

"And obviously we do this to find the winner so hopefully we can find the winner in Oxford basically."

Lutece Constant, from Greater Leys, sang I Can't Make You Love Me by Bonnie Raitt.

The 20-year-old carer said: "I was going to do it then I wasn't, I was really toying with it, but I thought – I'll give it a try, I only had minutes to prepare.

She added: "There is so much music talent in Oxford, the Oxford music scene is huge so it should be really helpful they came here."

Recordings of the auditions will be sent to the head of talent at Simon Cowell's record label Syco – called Barney Addison.

He and his team will listen to the auditions before inviting the best or most entertaining acts through to the next stage of the ITV talent show.

Blackbird Leys carer Tynelle Blackstock said: "There is huge talent in Oxford and we don't get recognised as much as London or Birmingham so it is a great experience for us that X Factor is here.

"I'm nervous and have a bit of fright but I gave it my all, tried my best and that's all I can do really."

The 28-year-old performed her rendition of Sparkle – Be Careful.

Most of the acts from the morning were solo artists – although groups did give it a go to impress producers.

An ensemble of about 15 French visitors broke out into a version of their national anthem even before they were ushered into the audition booth.

Teaching assistant Rossana O'Connor travelled to Oxford from Aylesbury.

After her audition the 46-year-old said: "It was so nerve-wracking, I've never done anything like this before and as your singing you don't know quite what they hear.

"But I actually sang for quite a long time and the person before me sang for quite a short time so I don't know if that's a good thing – that they let me go on.

"But I'm so happy I've done it, proud of myself for being here and doing it, I'm chuffed."

She added: "I've got a voice and I want to use it, it is my instrument."

This year's X Factor is running its biggest-ever audition tour of over 50 towns and cities.

The show has turned up talents including One Direction, Olly Murs, and Little Mix.

X Factor creator Simon Cowell added, "If you think you have the potential to be a world-class star, this is your chance to prove it."

Judges' auditions take place this summer.

Quilt's journey to Brize Norton

A NEW quilt sent from New Zealand has been hung in the Repatriation Centre at RAF Brize Norton alongside those already on display.

Lesley Inger, of the Auckland Quilting Association, created her work 'Pacific Blue' (below) on hearing about the quilts hung at the centre.

She used traditional techniques inspired by the Southern Ocean and New Zealand beaches.

Lesley said: "I know there is a Kiwi exchange pilot flying with 30 Squadron at RAF Brize Norton.

"We are proud of our military personnel who continue to support the UK."

It was delivered to the centre by Flight Lieutenant Kendall Dooley, a New Zealander pilot, on March 31.

He said: "The gift reflects the close relationship between the two nations."

The repatriation centre is used by families of servicemen killed on operations.

Hundreds of rowers take to the Thames

• Rowers racing on Sunday during the annual Head of the River event in Abingdon

HUNDREDS of rowers took to the waters in Abingdon on Sunday for the annual Head of the River event along the Thames.

Rowing clubs from across the country based themselves at Rye Meadow for a day of racing along the river in south Abingdon.

The event was organised by Abingdon Rowing Club, and saw 394 entrants compete over four divisions.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Matt Jones, Abingdon Rowing Club member and one of the organisers of the event, said: "It went really well, everything went to plan.

"As far as I'm aware, it's possibly one of our most successful Head races that we've had so far.

"It was good to have some nice weather, but the wind did prove a challenge – there were a few boats getting blown into the bushes and things like that.

"In general it was a really successful day."

Royal Grammar School High Wycombe recorded the fastest time of the day with 6:57.

While Wallingford Rowing Club were Oxfordshire's best representatives with the third best time.

Abingdon's Jewell boat posted a time of 8:15 to come 36th across all divisions.

Football sticker artists turn focus to politicians

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN OXFORD couple who last year completed a World Cup sticker album by drawing every player have turned their attention to the general election.

Alex and Sian Pratchett, from Iffley Road, have put their artistic talents towards drawing the UK's key politicians.

Prime Minister David Cameron, Labour leader Ed Miliband and Ukip's Nigel Farage are among those who have already been given the 'sticker treatment' over the past week.

The pair, known as the Panini Cheapskates, drew every footballer in last summer's World Cup for a 640-sticker album.

"I was watching the leaders' debate and I saw Farage and co with their big mouths flapping away, and thought, 'there were some big features there'," said Alex.

"So I sent a tweet out saying I might draw Farage, uploaded it and it got quite a big reaction, so I quickly did Miliband and Cameron.

"In the next day or so, me and my wife, my partner in crime doing all the World Cup ones, bashed out the rest of them.

"We haven't got an end game in mind, just to put up a few more terrible pictures and see what people think of them."

Alex and Sian documented their efforts of drawing all the World Cup stickers on their website last June and July.

"The World Cup was meant to be a silly thing to entertain a few friends," Alex continued.

"Then within a day it was all over the internet and I spent half my day on the phone and the other half drawing.

"It's weird how some things take off, and it was the same last week when I drew Farage."

The pair are drawing more in the next few days.

Security beefed up at leisure centre where rapist spied

OPERATORS of the Abingdon leisure centre where a rapist spied on women has spoken of measures put in place to stop it happening again.

Better took over the running of the White Horse Leisure Centre in late 2014 – after Andrew Hutchinson's voyeurism crimes took place.

It was at the leisure centre, in Audlett Drive, where Andrew Hutchinson, 29, of Garford near Abingdon, was first found to be spying on women and girls.

He pleaded guilty to 27 charges against 29 women and girls, including rape, last month.

Ben Whaymand, partnership manager at Better's operator GLL, said: "There is CCTV throughout the building enabling us to monitor who is entering and who is leaving the premises.

"All our frontline staff are given safeguarding training, enabling them to identify times and circumstances in which customers might be more vulnerable and how these should be managed.

"As an additional security measure we will also be introducing access controls such as turnstiles and gates into the centre."

Competition

WIN tickets to Gypsy in London's West End

Don't miss Gypsy, one of the greatest ever Broadway musicals, as it transfers to the West End following its sell-out, rapturously acclaimed five-star run at Chichester Festival Theatre.

Imelda Staunton delivers a "knock-out performance" (The Independent) as Momma Rose in Jonathan Kent's "dazzling revival" (Mail on Sunday), alongside Lara Pulver, who reprises her "stunning" (The Independent) role as Louise. They are joined by Peter Davison as Herb, in this gloriously entertaining musical fable that features "showstopping" (Mail on Sunday) choreography from Stephen Mear.

Based on the true life memoirs of legendary burlesque entertainer, Gypsy Rose Lee, it tells the tale of Momma Rose and her two daughters, Baby June and Louise, trekking across America in their family vaudeville act. But times are changing, audiences are expecting more, and the two girls have their own ambitions in mind. The rise of burlesque is upon them, and nothing will ever be the same again for Momma Rose.

Closing date:
Friday, May 1, 2015

With lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, book by Arthur Laurents and music by Jule Styne, this moving and "scintillating" (The Times) production of Gypsy is the first to be seen in London for 40 years.

For more information and for the best seats with no booking fees visit www.gypsythemusical.uk

We have 2 pairs of tickets to this fantastic show and to be in with a chance of winning one all you have to do is answer this simple question.

Q: Who wrote the lyrics for the musical Gypsy?

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Poetry at the Playhouse

KNOWN for his poetry and use of eyeliner, poet, publisher and broadcaster Luke Wright will be at the Oxford Playhouse next Wednesday, April 22.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The poet, who was raised in Essex, is currently touring the country as part of his 'Stay-At-Home-Dandy' UK tour, which is the performer's eighth spectacle on the road as a solo performer since 2004.

The poet creates a brand new show every year.

"People often think that live poetry might be a dry and a reserved experience but my shows are full of energy and humour," Luke told the Guardian.

"I use alliteration, metre and rhyme to make my poems almost musical and I hope that my audience not only get a good story or an incisive bit of social commentary, but also enjoy the performances simply for the sound the words make.

"I'm somewhere between a stand-up comedian and the front man of a band. I also perform my poems at full tilt."

After being drawn to the lyrics of songs by Britpop's bands such as Blur and Pulp, the then aspiring entertainer went and saw established poets Martin Newell and John Cooper Clarke perform gig in his late teens.

And after being inspired by one performance, Luke stated that "he was instantly hooked", and within a month was on stage performing his own poetry.

He has since become one the most successful poets in Britain over the past few years.

Back in 2000, he along with good friend and poet Ross Sutherland formed Aisle16.

It started as a poetry club above a communist-themed pub.

But now the club - once just a team of four - allows different poets to come together, share ideas and write shows.

It has gone on to perform at many festivals including the Edinburgh Fringe and Glastonbury.

"I'm fortunate that I am able to make a living out of my work and that people like coming to watch my performances but I'd be writing poems even if no one wanted to watch them," Luke explained.

"Making art is a compulsion.

"I feel miserable if I don't write so I carry on.

"A desire to communicate what I create has meant I've found an audience for that.

"I try my best to nurture my artistic ambitions while taking career success (and failure) with a pinch of salt."

He added: "Oxford, like any university town, has an energy and vitality about it.

"The Burton Taylor Studio is a great room to play too."

Suitable for anyone over the age of 14, tickets cost from £8 to £10.

The show will start at 7.30pm.

Call the Beaumont Street theatre on 01865 305305 for more details or tickets.

James Bay

SINGER-SONGWRITER James Bay will be at the Oxford O2 this Sunday, April 19.

The 24-year-old from Hitchin became a household name last year with his hit 'Hold Back the River', which peaked at number four in the UK singles chart.

The doors open at 7pm.

Folk night

AN IRISH folk night will take place at The Half Moon pub this Sunday, April 19.

Led by Irish singer Mick Henry, the night will also play music from other genres.

The pub in St Clement's opens its doors for the free event at 8pm.

Call 01865 247808 for more information.

Earl Thomas

BLUES and jazz singer Earl Thomas will be at The Haven Club on Cowley Road next Monday, April 20.

Life of Riley

• Mike Rowbottom as Simeon and Marilyn Johnstone as Monica

ALAN Ayckbourn's 74th play will be brought to life when the Sinodun Players re-enact 'Life of Riley' at The Wallingford Corn Exchange until Saturday, April 18.

Written back in 2010, the comedy stage production sees popular schoolteacher George Riley find out that he has only got a few months left to live.

Although George is never seen in the play, only referred to, six of his friends gather to remember their relationships with him.

They meet together to plan to make his last few months as comfortable and enjoyable as possible.

But their efforts result in complicating their own relationships in unforeseen ways.

Completely made up of volunteers, journalist and broadcaster Mike Rowbottom, who stars in the play as Simeon, told the Guardian the one thing he enjoys the most when performing to a crowd that love comedy.

"The laughter," he told the Guardian.

"You know when you have people with you that you can do pretty much anything and comedy, more than anything, lends itself to that.

"It comes down to that shared purpose again.

"If you're getting it right, then everyone in the audience is laughing with you and there's a communal warmth for those couple of hours which you may not get at other times."

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Regarded as one of Ayckbourn's best pieces of work, the production made its theatrical debut at The Stephen Joseph Theatre in Scarborough where the comedy play focuses on terminal illness, friendships and relationships.

The popularity of the play caught on with audiences around the world, which lead to a film adaption of the production being premiered in France last year, where it became a critical and commercial success.

"The great thing about this kind of community theatre is the joint sense of purpose," Mike said.

"It promotes friendship, comradeship and gives a constant sense of achievement for no financial reward – in fact it usually costs us because it's our hobby.

"The Corn Exchange is a unique facility because it's the only game in town for Wallingford, there's no cinema, nightclub or professional theatre so everything centres on what we do there.

"It's magnificent in the way it serves the town."

Tickets cost £10 and the run of shows start at 7.45pm.

Call the Market Place venue on 01491 825000 for further details about the show or to book tickets.

Band 'psyched' to play in Oxford

GARAGE, rock and indie band Demob Happy will be bringing their unique sounds to The Jericho Tavern in Oxford tomorrow evening, April 17.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The four friends, made up of Matthew Marcantonio (lead vocals and bass), Mathew 'Rennie' Renforth (guitar and backing vocals), Adam 'Berry' Godfrey (guitar and backing vocals) and Thomas Armstrong (drums and vocals) are currently adventuring on 26-day spring tour which will see the quartet perform as north as Newcastle to as south as their hometown, Brighton, promoting their latest EP, 'Young & Numb'.

And before setting off around the UK, the group had embarked on a small tour around Europe, performing in locations such as Copenhagen, Hamburg and Berlin.

The enthusiastic quartet also revealed to the Guardian which country they would love to perform in the future and why.

"We absolutely cannot wait to perform at the Jericho Tavern, as we believe it will be the most fascinating experience we've ever predicted," Matthew told the Guardian.

"And if we had to choose a country to play in and why, we would most probably go for Egypt… just because of the pyramids."

Known for their two popular hits, 'Suffer You' and 'Succubus', the up and coming group have had plenty of positive feedback come their way.

Former Radio 1 DJ Zane Lowe once described the group's music as "deadly serious", whilst current Radio 1 presenter Huw Stephens called them "brilliant."

And a fellow Radio 1 presenter also had positive things to say about Demob Happy's latest hit, 'Succubus' by saying: "I've been spinning this record like a clown spins plates."

However, despite the praise, Demob have reiterated that the group's number intention is just to play music.

"Our set list on the night will be untamed and unruly, but most likely, it will be a bunch of Schlager covers," Matthew said.

He added: "Also, this is our first ever gig at The Jericho Tavern so we are incredibly psyched to be there!"

Starting at 8pm, tickets cost from £5 to £10.

Call the Walton Street pub on 01865 311 775 for more information about the gig or to buy tickets which will sell out quickly.

Renault to show vast range of van conversions at final day of the CV Show in Birmingham

A diverse taste of Renault

THE NEC in Birmingham will be swamped with fresh-faced Renaults as the French manufactures showcase the diversity and versatility of its light commercial vehicle range at this year's CV Show.

By James Richings

The annual event which has taken place in every April since the year 2000 – will finish today.

It is the largest and most ample road freight transport, distribution and logistics event staged in the United Kingdom, with Renault this year showcasing 17 vehicles and every automobile on show being available to purchase from July this year.

Renault's CV Show 2015 line-up will be made up of a number of different vehicles which includes seven different models from the Renault Trafic range, six diverse models from the Master range, two models from the very popular Renault Kangoo range, with one Renault Twizy Cargo Ambulance also being on show.

The Twizy became a huge topic of discussion back in January, as it was used in an episode of Top Gear, where James May drove the small car from one side of Russian's second largest city St. Petersburg to the other.

Steve Wilson, LCV Product Manager, Renault UK, commented: "Renault recognises that every business is unique and has specific requirements. We are committed to providing vehicles to fit those needs.

"We try to tailor our range to suit the greatest needs with our factory-built conversions so there is only one invoice and one contact, but for customers who require something more specific to their needs, our network of Approved Converters is skilled in building specialist and bespoke converted vehicles."

One main factor that could contribute to Renault's popularity at this year's event will be the company's four-year, 100,000-mile warranty with roadside assistance.

The extensive Renault warranty package with roadside assistance carries no mileage limit in the first two years and then adds a further two years of cover up to a maximum of 100,000 miles, with any material or assembly defects being rectified free of charge.

There is also a three-year paintwork warranty and six years' cover against corrosion.

Along with the warranty, roadside assistance also lasts for four years and is available throughout the whole day.

If the vehicle cannot be repaired at the roadside or outside the owner's home, it will then be towed to the nearest dealer. Onward travel with European cover is included for three years.

For more information, visit www.cvshow.com.

• A wide variety of Renault vehicles will be on show

Birthday boy snatches late equaliser for U's

A BIRTHDAY goal from Alex MacDonald in the dying minutes secured an unlikely draw for Oxford against a tough Northampton United side on Tuesday night.

A rather empty Kassam Stadium witnessed a mediocre United performance and The Cobblers were devastated after delivering a superior performance to the home side.

An Ivan Toney free kick gave Town control over the pitch for much of the game before MacDonald pounced in stoppage time to steal a point for the U's.

United remain 16th in the Sky Bet League Two table whilst Northampton stay mid-table, and were gutted to not hold onto the three points.

The action on the pitch was fairly sleepy as no side really tested the keeper in the first 20 minutes.

Toney got the first real chance, narrowly heading wide from a free kick as Town looked the most likely to find the opener.

Oxford looked disorganised and Town's Ricky Holmes looked to cause issues down United's right flank.

Toney then dispatched a powerful free kick in the 39th minute that bounced past rookie keeper Paddy Ashdown, who was making his debut.

United came out in the second half with much more initiative and made the Cobblers work to maintain their lead, with Hylton coming close with a deflected shot striking the post on the hour mark.

The spark couldn't materialise for either side and the match became rough and messy as neither found the opportunities.

A chance fell in the final five minutes for Oxford with a whipped ball from Danny Rose but Long couldn't direct it goalwards.

Finally in the 91st minute, an error from Cobbler's Shwan Jalal allowed MacDonald to slot home Danny Hylton's pass to secure United a point.

Speaking after the game, MacDonald said he was proud of United's efforts to dig deep to earn the point.

He said: "We dug in, showed our grit and determination.

"We we're a bit disappointed with our first-half performance, our standards dropped tonight."

MacDonald's goal was his third league goal of the season and was delighted to grab the point.

"I'm absolutely made up to grab us a point," he added.

"We'll have to work hard till the end of the season, but I'm sure we can reset and come back from the summer, guns firing".

The U's travel to bottom side Tranmere Rovers at Prenton Park for their next match on Saturday afternoon.

Nine welsh players sign

NINE London Welsh players have committed to new deals in the last week, The Exiles have announced.

The club's front row quartet of Nathan Trevett, Koree Britton, Nathan Morris and Ben Cooper all signed new deals on Tuesday morning.

They joined the five backs; Seb Jewell, Alan Awcott, Nic Reynolds, James Lewis and Will Robinson, who also committed to the club on Friday.

Trevett was ever-present during Welsh's Championship winning campaign last season, racking up 41 appearances for the club in total.

Welsh have high hopes for Britton, who is a former representative for England in the U20 sides and has made 18 appearances for Welsh this season, scoring two tries.

Jewell has made 94 appearances for the Exiles in all competitions since joining the club in 2011 from Wasps and is a double Championship winner with Welsh.

Lewis, is another man for the future and has scored 18 tries in 81 appearances from centre.

Welsh director of rugby Steve Lewis said: "The announcements are significant as we prepare to mount a challenge for an immediate return to the Premiership."

City up for the promotion fight, says boss Merritt

OXFORD City manager Justin Merritt rallied his team as he said that 'anything can happen in football' after their promotion hopes took a dent in a 1-1 draw with Harrogate Town at Court Place Farm.

Merritt's team are seventh in the Vanarama Football Conference North Division, and just four points off Guiseley, who have a game in hand with two left to play.

The match was a blustery affair on the pitch with City's Tim Winters knocking them into the lead early in the second half before Harrogate hit back with a classic striker's goal from James Walshaw.

It was a result that Merritt believes has made their final two games of the season must-win matches.

Merritt said: "It's all in our hands really, anything can happen in football and we've set ourselves up with the challenge of winning the last two matches.

"We needed to win but looking back we remain positive and in reality we've performed very well this season."

Oxford started the game in a flash and nearly found the net through an early chance for ex-Harrogate player Adi Yussuf, but Town's Peter Crook saved easily.

Yussuf continued to test Crook later in the first half but Town finished the half the better team with midfielder Ryan Fallowfield failing to hit the target after a great a Jack Emmett cross.

City finally broke the deadlock on 54 minutes through an attack down the right as a long ball into Town's area was dispatched coolly by Winters.

The goal spurned Town's resolve and Emmet was in the midst of the action again to play in Walshaw, who rounded City keeper Salva de la Cruz to score the equaliser.

Merritt next takes his troops off to Lincolnshire on Saturday for their all-important game against Gainsborough Trinity.

Welsh show resolve in Wasps defeat

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

LONDON Welsh made early signs of improvement as they took another heavy 13-40 defeat to Wasps on Sunday.

Wasps came out with a purpose and improved their top-four hopes with help from Tom Varndell as the Coventry-based team earned the bonus point they require.

The result was far less humbling then the 71-7 defeat Welsh got handed to them at Adams Park earlier in the season.

For 52 minutes the Exiles gave their all and managed to keep the tide at bay, restricting the Champions Cup quarter-finalists to just 5-12 at the break.

Varndell crossed the line for the Wasps twice in the opening 10 minutes, with the first deemed controversial by a forward pass.

Welsh then got back in the game through Opeti Fonua, scoring his third try in 11 Premiership appearances for Welsh, and Pete Browne came within inches of adding another just before the break.

Welsh started the second half well and Robinson's penalty closed the gap to four points.

Wasps then turned up the heat and raced ahead through a try from Ashley Johnson and then Varndell completed his hat trick five minutes later.

Andy Goode scored both conversions to make it 26-8 before the Exiles broke through and Chris Elder gave them hope with another try for Welsh.

Wasps' attack proved too tough to handle and Michael Tagicakibau found the line from close range and Alpeti Leiua added insult to injury in the dying moments with Wasps' final try.

The result leaves Welsh unable to improve on their solitary point as they host second placed Saracens in the final home game of the season on Saturday.

Cup's the priority for the yellows

NORTH Leigh manager Mark Gee has banged the drum ahead of their Oxfordshire Senior Cup final after The Millers consolidated mid-table with a 2-2 draw against Shortwood United.

Gee has set his sights on securing the trophy for his ambitious side, calling it a priority after their hopes of promotion from the Southern Football League Division 1 South and West were extinguished earlier this season.

Gee's side fought back from a two-goal deficit to draw level with the side from Gloucestershire despite a dominating first-half display.

North Leigh flew out the blocks against The Wood but found themselves trailing just before the break when Shortwood's Josh Egan fired in an opener.

Shortwood doubled their advantage 10 minutes after the break through Lewis Sommers before Leigh's Calum McNish brought one back and Jamie Cook found the equaliser in the dying minutes of the match.

Gee told the Guardian: "We were really disappointed to come in 1-0 down at half-time but we kept out heads and showed our worth.

"We're going to look at finishing on a high so the cup final is now our priority, but we also want to reach 100 goals in the league."

North Leigh have hit the net 95 times in the league this season and Gee feels that if they maintain the players they have for next season, they will 'score goals from all over the pitch'.

The Millers next entertain Sholing FC on Saturday at Eynsham Hall Park Sports Ground.

They will face off against Banbury United FC in the Oxfordshire Senior Cup final on May 7.

Ardley book place in Challenge Cup final

ARDLEY United secured their place in the Bluefin Sports Challenge Cup final with a 2-1 win against Rayners Lane on Tuesday night.

United took control in the first period and found the opener through a good run from Conor Ingram.

Ardley then gave themselves more breathing space with Jon Gardner netting in from close range after a Diego Petriaggi free-kick.

Rayners Lane did pull a goal back late in the second half with a Reece Chaudry effort from close range.

In the Hellenic Football League Division One East, Henley Town continued their impressive season with a well-deserved 2-2 draw away at Burham Reserves on Monday night.

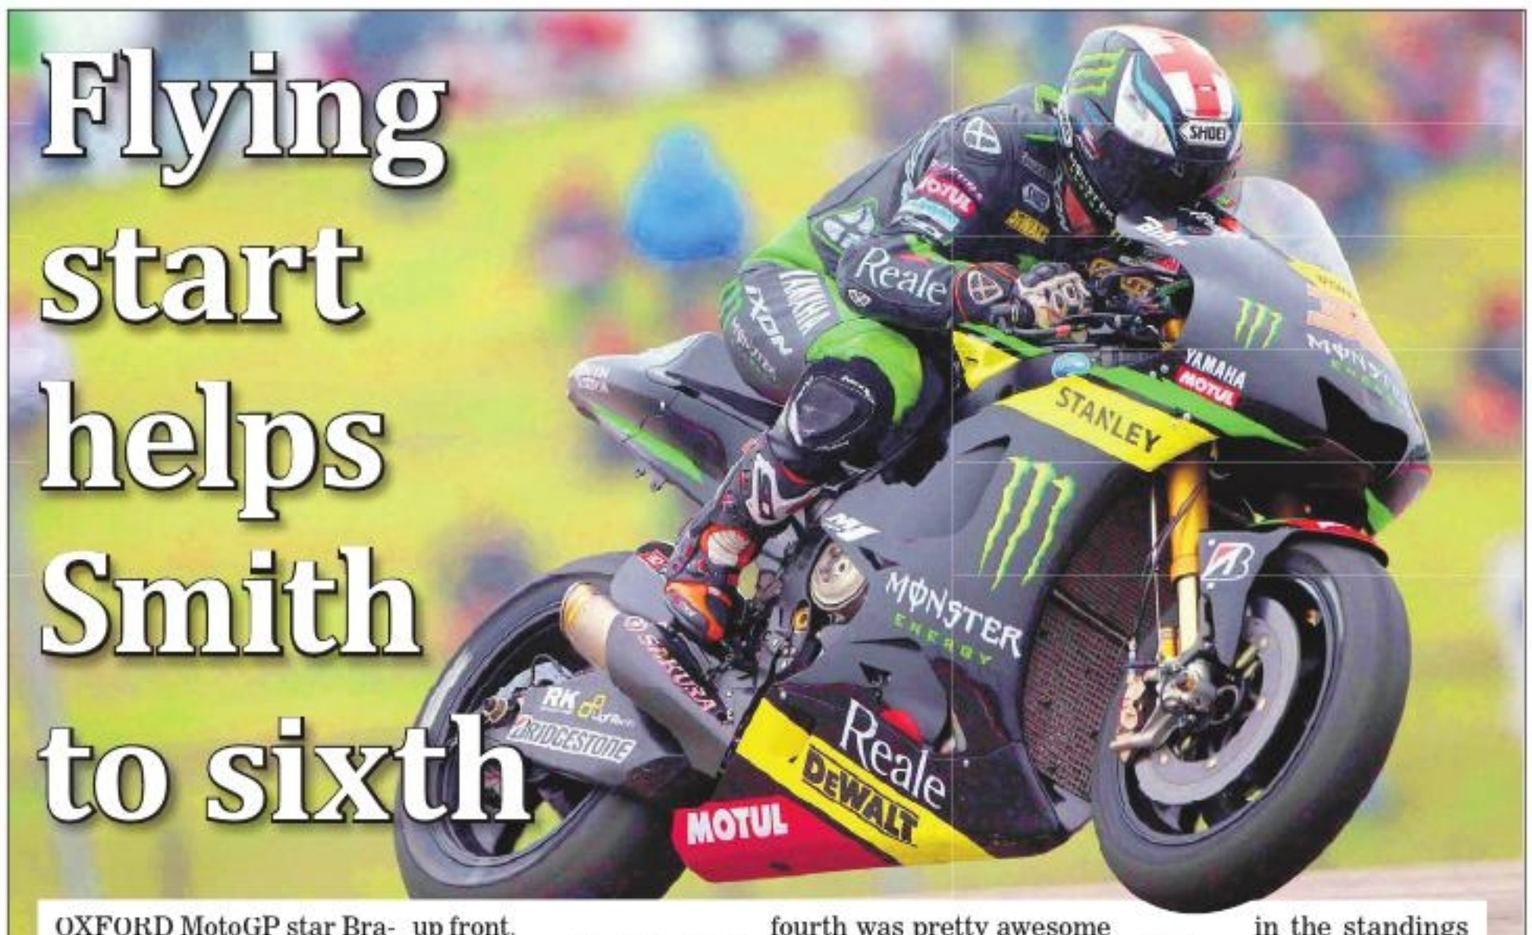
The match was a rearranged fixture from early in the season when the game was called off at half time due to torrential rain.

Grant Kemp gave Henley the lead with a solid header before Andy Forisky converted a penalty for Burnham.

Johnson gave the reserves the lead in the second half before Richard Bennett earned them a point.

Elsewhere in the division, Headington Amateurs were dealt their third consecutive defeat in a 2-0 defeat to Wokingham & Emmbrook.

And North Leigh United caused a stir in The Hellenic Football League Division One West with a 6-1 home win at Eynsham Park.



Flying start helps Smith to sixth

OXFORD MotoGP star Bradley Smith capitalised from a flying start as he came home sixth at the Circuit of the Americas in Texas on Sunday.

Starting 10th, Smith jumped six places off the start to fourth at the first corner, and set consistent times to keep pace with the leading riders up front.

He dropped back to sixth, but kept fellow Brit Cal Crutchlow behind to end the race as the top satellite rider.

"It was a great race and I am pleased with the result," Smith said.

"It began with a strong start and to jump from 10th up to fourth was pretty awesome – the risk I took to go around the outside of the pack at turn one paid off.

"I am pleased with the outcome and to finish in sixth as the top satellite and only 10 seconds behind is definitely one of my best performances in my MotoGP career."

The result puts Smith sixth in the standings after two races with 18 points, and he trails current series leader Valentino Rossi by 23 points.

He returns to action at the Spanish track of Jerez on May 3.

Sport Bites

Plato's back

MOTORSPORT: Jason Plato will be looking for better luck as the British Touring Car Championship heads to Donington Park for round two of the series on Sunday.

A puncture robbed Plato of a win in race two at Brands Hatch on April 5, meaning his only points of the weekend came with a third place in race one.

The Oxford-born driver is currently 13th in the standings with 15 points, 22 behind series leader Matt Neal.

Ladies lose

FOOTBALL: Three second-half goals condemned Oxford United Women to a second successive defeat, as they lost 3-0 to Yeovil Town on Sunday.

Corinne Yorston, Nicola Cousins and Annie Heatherson scored the goals for Yeovil in a miserable evening for Oxford at Northcourt Road.

The result sees Oxford slip to eighth in the Women's Super League 2 standings.

They host Aston Villa Ladies in their next match at home on Sunday.

Swim success

SWIMMING: Three Abingdon Vale Swimming Club (AVSC) boys earned podium finishes at the Level 1 Open Meet in Bristol over the weekend.

Max Bolcato, 12, picked up a gold, two silvers and three bronze medals, while 12-year-old Daniel McNamara earned three golds, a silver and a bronze.

And Luke Wilby, 14, collected a gold and two silvers.

AVSC Coach Bruce Rennie said: "It was great to see all the swimmers putting in great performances and achieving personal bests."

No luck for county's rugby sides

ALREADY-RELEGATED Oxford Harlequins suffered an eighth consecutive defeat in the National League 3 South West division on Saturday after losing 50-19 to Barnstaple.

They are second bottom of the table with 33 points, six behind 12th-placed Weston-super-Mare.

Elsewhere, Witney RFC's sensational 11-match winning streak was finally brought to an end as they lost 15-7 away to Maidenhead.

They remain fourth in the South West 1 East standings with 76 points, three ahead of Swindon in fifth.

And there was also defeat for Grove RFC, after they were comfortably beaten 34-7 by Reading.

They drop behind Reading to 10th in the South West 1 East as a result, with the Berkshire side holding a two point advantage over them.

FIRST POINTS FOR GROSJEAN

Lotus driver gets the team off the mark at Chinese GP

ROMAIN Grosjean scored Enstone-based Lotus F1's first points of the season after coming home seventh at the Chinese Grand Prix on Sunday.

The Frenchman picked up his first points in almost a year to end the longest barren spell of his career.

He had qualified eighth and was running behind his teammate Pastor Maldonado in the second stint of the race, but moved ahead when the Venezuelan encountered problems.

And he was able to hold off the Sauber of Felipe Nasr to collect six points for his efforts.

"It's the best we could do and it's satisfying to have achieved the team's first points of the season," said Grosjean.

"It wasn't an easy circuit for us, with a lot of front limited corners that we don't particularly like, but we had a strong start and most of the stints were good too.

"We've made a good job improving the car race after race and it's great to finally score points."

On the other side of the garage a promising start ended in misery for Pastor Maldonado as he retired before the end for the fourth consecutive race.

Maldonado had got up to seventh following some bold overtaking moves, but his race was undone as he came in for his second pitstop.

Coming into the pits, his brakes suffered a problem and he overshot the entrance into a service road, and had to be pushed back by marshals in order to continue.

A spin soon after dropped him back further, before his race was ended when Jenson Button's McLaren ran into the back of his Lotus at the first corner as they battled for position.

Maldonado said: "I made a great start and we were running strongly early on, however later I had a braking issue which made it harder to battle.

"It was a fantastic battle with Jenson and we were passing each other very cleanly, but unfortunately it looks like he got his braking point wrong and went into the back of me.

"Certainly our race pace is good, if we qualify a little higher we should be set for a very good time in Bahrain."

All the drivers return to action at the Sakhir circuit for the Bahrain Grand Prix on Sunday.
